Building and Garden Lots,

CONTIGUOUS to, and at a small distance from the city, to be sold at the coffee house in Second street, on Wednesday the 20th of March, at 6 o'clock in the evening, containing from about 1-4 of an acre to about 4 acres each. The small lots fronting on Vine and Callowhill streets, on the west side of Schuylkill Second street, and the large lots containing whole or half or quarter squares, some of them bounded on the west by Schuylkill and the upper ferry road including some fine quarry lots on Schuylkill: the whole containing about 140 acres, and formerly known by the name of Springsbury; bounded on the north by Francis street, extending from the Ridge road to Schuylkill, crossing the canal, on which several of the lots will give fronts.

The situation of many of the large lots is on high ground, commanding beautiful views of the Schuylkill, supposed to be sufficiently detached to escape any unfortunate disorder which may be prevalent in the city.—The terms will be made known at the time of the sale.

N. B. Maps of the lots are fixed up at the middle and upper ferries on Schuylkill; at Seybert's Tavern, in Second street, Northern Liberties; at Ogdens tavern in Chesnut street, and at the coffee house.

The convenience of stone for rear the premises will prove very advantageous to purchasers.
CONNELLY & Co. auct'rs.

Postponement.

☞ The uncommon severity of the weather having prevented many persons from viewing the lots above described, the sale is postponed until Saturday the 20th April next, when it will be held on the premises, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The terms will be cash for those lots which are 50 feet, and 49 and an half feet front, and for those of a larger size, one half the cash to be paid down and the other half in six months from the day of sale.
march 20

TAKE NOTICE,

THAT I am to be sold on such terms, that the purchaser need not advance any cash, unless he pleases, till it is earned by my services, provided no accident happens me; or, if you please, I am to be farmed out for two years, and not less. I am a bright bay, full 15½ hands high, of noble descent, my name is TRIMMER—I was got by Hall's imported horse Eclipse, my dam, purchased by Doctor Hall, was got by the imported horse Slim; my grand dam was got by Old Figure; my great grand dam by Taskers Othello out of Selima, &c. &c. as will more fully appear by William Lyle's attested certificate who raised me. My character as a racer is well established; I won the colt's purse at Bladensburg of twenty guineas; I won a fifty guinea purse at Baltimore, a fifty guinea purse at Annapolis and a fifty guinea purse at Hagerstown. I never lost a race but the last I run at Alexandria, which was owning to my being badly shod, as I lost all my plates before I got in. I am in fine plight, sound in every respect; my offspring are in great repute, some of which are now in training for the turf—procure me good stands and entertainment and I am able to earn one thousand dollars per annum.

Any person inclining to buy or rent may know the terms by applying to John Carnan (Lovehall) Cœcil county and state of Maryland, eight miles south of Elkton.

JACOB PERKINS,

HAVING invented an effectual check for detecting counterfeit Bank Paper, which has received the sanction of one Bank, and the approbation of the undersigned eminent artists, and having obtained a patent, securing to him, and to his assigns, the exclusive right of the invention, hereby offers to his fellow citizens the privilege of using it upon terms, to be agreed on between him and any person disposed to avail themselves of a guard against counterfeits.

THE undersigned having examined Jacob Perkin's new invented method to detect counterfeit Bank paper, do approve of the plan, it being impossible to engrave or sink two plates perfectly alike, without the original die or hub, the counterfeiter would find it impossible to make an impression which would perfectly gage with the check from the original die.

VINES.

To the Gentlemen of Philadelphia.

AMONGST fruit trees, the superiority of the vine is universally acknowledged, and the reason why there are so few, and why those few bear so little fruit, is, that the plants are not properly cultivated.

That part of the culture of the vine which requires most experience and most care, is the pruning, for which the season is now arrived. The subscriber, who has to remain some days in the city, will with pleasure prune the vines (gratis) of any gentleman who will accept of his services, and who will send his address to him at Mr. Moutea's, No. 27, Sugar alley.——His long experience in the culture of the vine, and the extraordinary success of his vineyard at SPRING MILL, must he imagines, be a sufficient assurance, that this inestimable plant can never suffer under his hands.

LEWIS JOCKY.

Philadelphia. 20th March, 1799.

P. S. Mr. Jocky requests the several printers to give the above a place in their gazettes; and, though its insertion can tend to the benefit of their customers alone, he will look upon it as a favour, which he shall be happy to repay by a bottle of his old American Wine, if they will honor him with a visit at Spring Mill, 13 miles from Philadelphia, on the Ridge Road.

FROM A LONDON PAPER.

FERDINAND KING OF NAPLES.

Nothing can be more disrespectful and contemptuous than the manner in which most of the late Italian writers speak of the present king of Naples. If we may believe them, his tutors early instilled into him an eager fondness for hunting, fishing, &c. amusements in which he is still known to indulge with a marked predilection—The king of Naples is of a lively disposition, and was still more so in his early youth: his governor was studious to discover new modes of recreation for him, and at the same time to repress in him a too great propensity to mildness and facility, which were the predominent ingredients in his character. St. Nicandre did not forget that one of the most favorite amusements of the prince of Asturias, now king of Spain, was to tear off the skin of rabbits; but his pupil he instigated to the pleasure of killing them. The young king posted himself in a narrow pass, towards which these miserable creatures were driven, and there, armed with a club proportioned to his strength, he fell upon and killed them, expressing his joy in loud peals of laughter. In order to give variety to this humane diversion, he took rabbits, dogs, cats, and diverted himself with tossing them in blankets till they expired. His passion for this amusement ripened into the desire of treating human beings in the same manner, an amusement of which his governor highly approved, as of the most reasonable kind. Peasants, soldiers, mechanics, and even the nobility and gentry thus became the sport and playthings of this sceptered child.

Such is the plan upon which Ferdinand IV. was brought up; nor was he troubled with so much as learing to read and write. His wife was his first school-mistress; an education of this description could not fail of forming a bad king. The Neapolitans expected no better, but future events demonstrated the folly of those conjectures. The prevailing influence of a good disposition triumphed over the errors of this vicious education. He came, after a time, to execrate the cruelties which he perpetrated in his infancy; and he afterwards proved, on a variety of occasions, that he was not destitute either of the good qualities of the heart or the understanding. He might have approved himself a good prince, had he succeeded in correcting himself of his inordinate passion for hunting and fishing, which engross those precious moments which might have employed in pursuits that tend to the public good.

Among the various anecdotes to which Ferdinand's passion for hunting has given birth, there is one which it is proper to record, because it manifests the suavity of his disposition, and the goodness of his heart:—a poor, disconsolate woman happened to fall in with him in a forest; she was unacquainted with his person, and she appeared to be deeply afflicted. The king enquired into her situation. She informed him that she had seven children, and that she had recently lost her husband, that the little she possessed had lately been laid waste by the king's hounds.—"How cruel is it (continued the widow) to have for a king an hunter, whose amusements wring such a flood of tears from the eyes of his subjects; why does this dronish simpleton come and lay waste my farm?"

Ferdinand replied that his amusements were justifiable, and that, as he belonged to his majesty's service, he would not fail to acquaint him with the complaint, without, however, insisting on the approbrious terms with which it was accompanied. "Tell every thing you can (replied the undaunted widow) it is all the same to me, for I expect no redress at his hands." The king accompanied her as far as her cabin: being desirous to examine the mischief and injury he had occasioned, he got an estimate made of it by two neighbouring peasants who were as little acquainted with his person as the widow. He then drew from his purse the whole of what money he had about him; he rewarded the arbitrators, and gave the remainder to the widow, who was also indemnified far beyond any damage of which she had complained.

It is doubtless under the pressure of extraordinary circumstances and of sudden emergencies, that the human character fully unfolds and manifests itself. On being informed of the disastrous fate of Calabria, Ferdinand was laid prostrate and confounded, and that to such a pitch, that he was for a time unable to utter a single word. "Good God!" said he, after a long silence and a passion of tears!—"Good God! Messina is then destroyed, and Calabria almost completely and entirely ruined!" He then reclined himself upon a bed, where he remained for near two hours in extreme agitation. The Queen, on her return from an excursion of pleasure, went into his apartment, and ridiculed and scoffed the cause of his uneasiness. She told him that he was nothing better than a child, a mere child, a man without any energy of character. What then, said she, is the cause of this deep despair? Does our existence depend upon the fate of Messina or Calabria? The King made no reply, but sent for the whole of his ministers—spoke to each in particular, and gave the most positive orders that every assistance should be given to the unfortunate persons whose lives had been spared. He then retired to his private apartment, where he shut himself up, and continued for twenty-four hours in the deepest agonies of grief, nor did he afford admittance to any person until the news of the arrival of fresh couriers were announced to him.

The details contained in these dispatches were of a most painful nature. The king fell into a real delirium; he continued much agitated, and walked up and down the apartments, uttering sobs and groans of desperation. The queen again made her appearance: and asked him—"What then would be your sorrow should you have lost one of your children?" Ferdinand hereupon recollected his reason, and turning himself towards her with majestic dignity, fixed an eye upon her that witnessed high indignation: "Know," said he, "that I would have more quietly sustained the loss of my whole family than that of one of my provinces. Are not the many thousand men who have perished my children likewise?"

Upon this answer, so truly worthy of a King, the Queen withdrew.—

"Ah!" continued Ferdinand, "with what pleasure would I not redeem the lives of my unfortunate Calabrians and Messinians, even at the loss of my whole family. Who is the cruel and barbarous Prince who could hesitate a moment in sacrificing six of his children, in order to save the lives of an hundred thousand faithful subjects?"

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 1.

Yesterday morning arrived the Ann, Capt. Loughead, with the Charleston mail. Capt. Loughead, left Charleston the 21st ult. and has politely handed us papers to that date inclusive. The following are the most important of their contents.

CHARLESTON, March 18.

From a gentleman who came passenger in the Eliza, from Cadiz, we have received information, that previous to her departure two mails had arrived at Cadiz, from Madrid: accounts by the first stated, that the court of Madrid had refused to grant permission to an army of the French Republic to pass through Spain, to attack Portugal; but the last mail stated, that the French ambassador had delivered in a note, in which he said, that if the demand he had made was not complied with, he had directions to to leave Madrid; in consequence of this, the permission was granted. It was expected that gen. Perignon would command the army against Portugal.

Several actions had taken place on the frontiers of Naples, between the troops of France and Naples, but nothing of a decisive nature. The Russian army had made no progress towards Germany. The German Empire had concluded peace with the French Republic.

Just before the Eliza left Cadiz, a court martial broke up, which had engaged much of the attention of the inhabitants of that city, and of all Spain. Several general officers were charged with having delivered up the fortress of Figueras to France, during the late war between France and Spain. Three of these generals were sentenced to suffer death; several others were broke, & sentenced to long imprisonments. One of the generals sentenced to die, is a general O'Neal, an Irishman, who was highly respected. There was hardly a doubt but that the sentences would be carried into execution, as, on an application made in their favor by the French minister, to the prince of peace, he was answered, that the Spanish army had so long been in a disorganized state, and discipline had so little been attended to, that it was necessary some examples should be made.

By the arrival from the Havanna we learn that accounts had been received there from Spain, which stated, that an attack was to be made on Cuba, by the British, in consequence of which every exertion was making to put the harbour of the Havanna in a state of defence; that the duty of 21 per cent. on rice had been taken off, and that article had risen from three to five dollars per hundred.

Yesterday sailed from this harbour, the French Cartel brig Romain, for Guadaloupe. In this vessel, the four Frenchmen and one woman, who were arrested in the Hamburgh brig Minerva, and afterwards were confined in Fort-Pinckney, went passengers. From the circumstance of their being released in this manner, it is probable that the papers which were found concealed, in their possession, did not contain any thing of a nature hostile to this country.

Saturday arrived the sloop Sally, Anthony, Havanna 9 days; schooner Eleanor, Frew, from Baltimore, in distress, out 21 days, having lost her foremast and bowsprit, bound to Curracoa; schooner Betsey, M'Ilhenny, Wilmington, (N. C.) 7 days; schr. Relief, Davis, Havanna, 9 days.

Yesterday arrived the brig Fanny, Ormond, Havanna, 10 days; sloop Betsey, Fitch, Havanna, 10 days; schooner Betsey, Chase, Wilmington, (N. C.) 6 days, in distress, bound to Kingston, (Jam.) sloop Sally, Bannatyne, 10 days; schooner William Burton, Havanna, 10 days.

The brig Norfolk, Butler, of this port, which was carried into Kingston, Jamaica, by commodore Loring, has arrived at the Havanna.

Captain Ormond, on his passage, was brought too by the British frigate Regulus, which took from him his boatswain and two men, one of whom, we are informed was American.

March 21.

Yesterday arrived the brig Hannah, Tate, Barbadoes, 35 days; brig Shearwater, Robinson, Nassau, 7 days.

Extract of a letter from captain George Burns, of the letter of marque schooner Amazon, belonging to this port, mounting eight guns, and carrying twelve men, dated at Curracoa, February 6.

"I am very sorry to inform you, on the 10th of January, being ten leagues to the eastward of Laguira, I unfortunately fell in with the French privateer Flower of the Seas, of eight guns and seventy men. They engaged us, and we fought them five glasses; then they hoisted the bloody flag, and the most of my people at this time were wounded, less or more; and finding it impossible to keep them off any longer, was obliged to strike. The privateer had seven men killed, and nine wounded in the engagement.—They carried us in here, landed the cargo, and stripped the vessel of every thing."

NASSAU, (N. P.) Feb. 25.

On board the sloop Henry, Cusack, from Africa for this port, captured by the Spanish schooner St. Roselia, capt. Monese, were two African youths, of about twelve years each, one named John son of King George, and the other Tom, son of King John Qua Ben, both having extensive domains on the river Giboon. These youths, their fathers had committed to the charge of Capt. Cusack, to be carried to Liverpool and there educated. They were both taken from capt. Cusack to be sold as slaves in force of all his remonstrances—and at Havannah he was told by a respectable Spanish merchant, that they would not be delivered up. The owner of the Spanish vessel is Francisco Maria Cuesto, who must consign his name to eternal obloquy, should he persist in refusing these unfortunate youths their freedom. A representation on this business, we have reason to expect, will be made to the Governor of Cuba.

A vessel which arrived this day from Havana, brings information of intelligence being received there, of Minorca having surrendered to the British arms; of three British ships of war being driven ashore near Cadiz, in a violent storm, and of the royal standard being erected in various parts of France.

BOSTON, March 25.

On Saturday morning the President of the United States, arrived in town from the seat of government. He came on as far as Hartford in his private carriage, when his horses failing, occasioned by the extreme badness of the roads, he took the Mail Stage.

The President was in town only about half an hour, during which time he was waited upon by a number of respectable citizens. The fatigue of his journey, and the renewed indisposition of his amiable lady prevented his gratifying his fellow citizens by receiving those public testimonials of respect and veneration which had been contemplated for the occasion; and induced him, thus suddenly to set out for his seat at Quincy in the same carriage in which he arrived. Capt. Amory's troop of Horse, were in readiness to have escorted him if his approach had been known, or the length of his visit, had possibly admitted of their collecting.

It must be highly gratifying to every liberal mind, to see the First Magistrate of a great nation, when convenience requires it, relinquish every appearance of distinction, and travel through the country as a private gentleman. Plainness and simplicity are the accompanyments of true greatness, and in our illustrious President, are eminently displayed, the result of unaffected goodness. We sincerely hope that his official cares will allow of his passing the summer, in his native state, and that his residence here may contribute to his health and domestic happiness! and we ardently pray that his invaluable life may be long preserved—that his usefulness may be continued—that his country may be prosperous, happy and grateful under his administration—and when the sovereign Disposer shall call him from this mortal state the transition may be easy, and the change inexpressibly advantagious.

LISBON NEWS,

There is a report received at Salem, by Captain Phillips, via Salem, that the French have captured Naples. We hope, and at present believe, it is only a report.

When a man placed in a conspicuous station, whether he has been recommended to that station by his villainies or not, has the audacity to threaten another with hiring a bravo to assault him, and having threatened, publishes with studied ostentation such a threat, in all companies where he goes, he is justly chargeable with any act of violence that ensues.

But when he points out as the signal for his vengeance, in this way, the first subsequent personal attack that is made upon him, and when the conscience of that first subsequent attack, is the assassination of its author, there is something more than presumptive evidence in the case. I do not hesitate to declare that he the author of the attack upon Mr. Brown. He may not, indeed, have gone directly to work about the thing; he may not have laid down the cash into the hands of the murderers, (though blast me, if I think him to good to do it) but he effectively suborne them, countenanced them, encouraged them, and by his station, assured them of impunity. He struck every blow that fell on M. Brown; and like a detestable coward as knave, laughs at this hour in serenity and security, behind that curtain, which, notwithstanding all his jugglership, shall cover him but for an appointed time. Justice shall yet revisit the earth; drunkards, gamblers, dotards, tyrants, thieves and harlequins, (allowed for wise ends to revel in dignities and power, yet a season) shall tremble at her frowns; and many a democratic knave, that ermin'd on the wages of his treasons, and on the spoils wrung from the heart of bleeding honesty, dashes his burnished chariot round the indignant town, may yet shape his course to that ignominious end which must await such unnatural crimes.

MR. FINNO,

ON casting my eyes around for a man of honor or of merit among the democratic crew, such, alas, were my reflections on the result—

Thus have I seen with eager eyes,
A Boy in search of silver prize,
The Geter scrape through thick and thin
And find the Gem—a piece of tin!

SIR,

IT affords me much satisfaction to find from the evidence of your officers, that the news-paper paragraph, so injurious to your reputation, is a gross mis-representation of the circumstance to which it alludes.

As you have been so long absent in the West-Indies, your request for permission to attend to your private affairs for two months is thought reasonable. You will therefore consider this, as your leave of absence for that time, provided it should not be found necessary to call you sooner into service.

I have the honor to be,
sir, your most obedient servant,

AN ORDINANCE.

For raising supplies, and making appropriations for the services and exigencies of the city for the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine.

BE it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Philadelphia in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the City Commissioners shall forthwith after the passing of this ordinance, raise by tax on the estates, real and personal, and on the professions of persons within the city of Philadelphia, agreeably to the last county assessment, the full and entire sum of fifty seven thousand five hundred dollars, for the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine, which with the taxes heretofore levied, and which remained out-standing and in arrear on the thirty-first of December, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, shall be appropriated in manner following, that is to say

For paying the debt due to the Bank of North America, a sum of sixteen thousand three hundred and fifty-eight dollars.

For paying part of twenty-one thousand three hundred and twenty-nine dollars and six cents, due to the Bank of Pennsylvania, a sum of nineteen thousand nine hundred and ninety-five dollars and seventy-three cents.

For discharging debts contracted by the City Commissioners, and remaining unpaid on the first of December one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, being for lighting and watching, paving, watering, and cleansing the city, the sum of thirteen thousand seven hundred and fifty two dollars and seventy-five cents.

For salaries to four city commissioners and their clerk at the annual compensation established for them respectively by an ordinance passed the ninth day of March one thousand seven hundred and ninety-seven, the sum of two thousand eight hundred dollars.

For the office expences of the city commissioners, the sum of one hundred and twenty dollars.

For the new paving Zane street, begun last year, and remaining unfinished, eight hundred and fifty dollars.

For the purchase of stone and repairing of old pavements, one thousand six hundred dollars.

For the repair of unpaved streets, and carrying off stagnant water, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars.

For cleansing the city, the sum of nine thousand six hundred and fifty dollars.

For cleansing the docks, and repairing and cleansing the common sewers, two thousand dollars.

For lighting and watching the city, the sum of eighteen thousand dollars.

For watering the city by wells and pumps, the sum of four thousand dollars.

For discharging any claim for services performed in one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, in regulating the streets, lanes and alleys in this city, a sum of five hundred dollars.

For the payment of any interest which may grow due on the city debts before the collection of taxes shall be sufficiently operative to discharge said debts a sum of one thousand two hundred dollars.

For preventing, correcting, or removing nuisances, and for other contingent objects which may occur in the course of the current year, the sum of two thousand eight hundred and ninety dollars and seventy-one cents, for a residuary fund.

For paying the interest and towards providing a fund for the redemption of the principal of any loan that may be raised for the more effectual supply of the city with wholesome water, the sum of twelve thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. And be it further ordained and enacted, That the sum of two thousand and fifty-nine dollars and nine cents, being the balance of monies arising from the income of the city property and in the treasurer's hands on the thirty first of December, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, the balances of the rentals of the last and preceding years receivable, but on that day remaining undischarged, together with the monies which may grow due and arise from the rental of the current year shall be applied on the receipt thereof, and the same are hereby appropriated to the following uses and purposes, that is to say, For the salaries to the mayor, to the recorder, to the clerks and messenger of the select and common councils, and to the clerks of High-street and Second-street markets agreeably to the ordinance establishing the salaries of certain officers passed on the ninth day of March in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-seven the sum of three thousand five hundred dollars.

For salary to the high constable, seven hundred dollars.

For pay of constables to patrole the streets of the city on the Sabbath Day of every week one hundred and fifty-six dollars.

For menial services and expences in sweeping and keeping in good order the High-street and Second street markets four hundred and sixty dollars.

For incidental expences of the select and common councils, as printing, stationary, fuel, candles, &c. six hundred dollars.

For repairs and improvements of the city property (the bridge and ferry on Schuylkill excepted) including one hundred and fifty dollars due on this account in one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight by the city commissioners' statement on the first of December in that year, one thousand five hundred dollars.

For paying the Bank of Pennsylvania the balance of five thousand three hundred and thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents, a loan in August one thousand seven hundred and ninety eight to pay for the Health-office Lot, and buildings, one thousand three hundred and thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents.

For paying Henry Pratt and Thomas Allibone, on account of their advances in one thousand seven hundred and ninety-seven, for sinking a wharf at the end of Sassafras-street, on the settlement of their accounts and vouchers, when brought forward for examination and adjustment, three thousand eight hundred and thirteen dollars and fifty-two cents.

And to the wife and children of Hilary Baker, Esquire late Mayor of this city and now deceased, in consideration of his faithful services during the prevalence of the late pestilential sickness, to be paid in quarterly payments, the sum of three thousand dollars.

Sec. 3. And be it further ordained and enacted, That the sums received and which shall arise on account of tolls at the bridge and ferry on Schuylkill at the west end of High-street, within the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine, shall be applied and are hereby appropriated as follows, to wit: For the payment of the Toll Collector's, salary one thousand dollars, and the residue of the said toll-receipts shall be applied to the discharge of all necessary repairs and expences which shall have been or may be incurred, on the account of, and be properly chargeable to the said bridge and ferry in the first instance, and if after such discharge any further sum shall remain, such residue shall be applied towards the providing of a fund for the redemption of any loan that may be raised for the more effectual supply of the city with wholesome Water.

THOMAS PARKER,
President Pro. Tem. of the Common Council.
FRANCIS GURNEY,
President of the Select Council.

Enacted into an Ordinance at Philadelphia, the thirtieth day of March, in in the year 1799.

Both houses of the legislature of this state, have agreed to a bill for the removal of the seat of government of the state of Pennsylvania, to the borough of Lancaster, until a permanent seat can be fixed on. By this act commissioners are appointed to prepare buildings for the reception of the legislature whose next session is to be held there, and all offices attached to the government are to be removed there on or before the first of November next. The governer has not given his assent as yet.

Extract of a letter from an officer on board the United States ship Constellation, to his friend in this city, dated

BASSATERRE, 4*th March.*

"We are informed, that it is our commander's determination when we sail, which will be in a few days, both ships being for sea, only a few men wanting for the Insurgente, to stretch under Guadaloupe in order that General Desfourneaux may have the pleasure of seeing that ship under the colors of the United States of America, before the road of Baffatere, the capital of the island."

Yesterday arrived the brig Angelica, Capt. Robinson, from Lisbon. Capt. Robinson left Lisbon the 13th February. In this vessel came Mr. Tazewell, late Secretary to Mr. Gerry. This gentleman was taken on his passage home in the ship Pacific, bound to Charleston, and carried into Vigo (Spain) from whence he went to Lisbon. The day before he left there, a Spanish mail arrived, bringing accounts that the king of Naples had removed his family to Palermo for safety, and intended returning again to head his army. This, it is supposed, gave rise to a report at Lisbon, that Naples had been taken, and the royal family had fled; but it received very little credit. Another report was, that the king of Naples had left the army to remove his family to Palermo, that, in the interim, a battle had taken place in the neighborhood of Rome, between the French and Neapolitan armies, in which the latter had had experienced a partial defeat, and both were intrenched waiting for reinforcements, when the king returned, who immediately ordered his principal engineer to be shot, and disgraced a great number of his principal officers. But our informant adds that the reports at Lisbon were so various and contradictory that very little credit can be attached to any of them, except that of the removal of the Royal Family.

No authentic accounts respecting the operations either in Egypt or Italy, were known in Lisbon, when the Angelica sailed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

March 11th, 1799.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

Pursuant to the act of Congress passed on the 1st day of June, one thousand, seven hundred and ninety six, entitled "an act regulating the grants of land appropriated for military services, and for the society of United Brethren for propagating the gospel among the Heathen;" and the act supplementary to the said recited act passed on the second day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine——to wit:

I.

THAT the tract of Land herein after described, namely, "beginning at the North West corner of the seven ranges of townships, and running thence fifty miles due south, along the western boundary of the said ranges;—thence due West to the Main Branch of the Scioto river; thence up the Main Branch of the said river to the place where the Indian boundary line crosses the same;—thence along the said boundary line to the Tuscaroras branch of the Muskingum river at the crossing place above Fort Lawrence; thence down the said river, to the point where a line run due west from the place of beginning, will intersect the said river; thence along the line so run to the place of beginning;" has been divided into townships of five miles square, and fractional parts of townships; and that plats and surveys of the said townships and fractional parts of townships are deposited in the offices of the Register of the Treasury and Surveyor General, for the inspection of all persons concerned.

II.

The holders of such warrants as have been or shall be granted for military services performed during the late war, are required to present the same to the Register of the Treasury, at some time prior to the twelfth day of February in the year, one thousand eight hundred, for the purpose of being registered; No registry will however be made of any less quantity than a quarter township, or four thousand acres.

III.

The priority of location of the warrants which may be presented and registered in manner aforesaid, prior to the 12th day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred, will immediately after the said day, be determined by lot, in the mode prescribed by the act first recited.

IV

The holders of registered warrants, shall on Monday the 17th day of February, in the year 1800, in the order of which the priority of location shall be determined by lot as aforesaid, personally, or by their agents, designate in writing at the office of the Register of the Treasury, the particular quarter townships elected by them respectively, and such of the said holders as shall not designate their locations on the said day, shall be postponed in locating such warrants to all other holders of registered warrants.

V.

The holders of warrants for military services sufficient to cover one or more quarter townships or tracts of four thousand acres each; shall, at any time after Monday the 17th day of February, 1800 and prior to the first day of January, 1802, be allowed to register the said warrants in manner aforesaid, and forthwith to make locations therefor on any tract or tracts of land not before located.

VI.

All warrants or claims for lands on account of military services, which shall not be registered and located before the first day of January, 1802, are by the supplementary act of Congress herein before recited, passed on the second day of March, 1799, declared to be forever barred.

Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the day and year above mentioned.

A Pleasant Reteat.

To be sold at publick vendue.

By order of the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County on the 17th day of the forth month next. at 7 o'clock in the evening, at the Merchants Coffee house, in Philadelphia.

The following described capital house and lots situated in Potts Town, about 36 miles from Philadelphia, being part of the estate of Thomas Mayburry, deceased.

The Mansion house, standing on the Main streets, built with stone and the best materials, commodiously divided into rooms and well finished throughout—with an airy entry and good cellars, forty-two feet in front and thirty six feet in depth—adjoining is a Stone Piazza, stove room and kitchen with lodging rooms over them—a well of good water in the yard—and a stone milk house with a smoke house over it—a good garden, &c. on the south end of the lot are a brew house, carriage house and a large stone barn—with extensive stables for horses, cows &c.

This estate would accommodate a large genteel family inclining to retire into the country. Potts Town being one of the cheapest places for provisions within the same distance from Philadelphia—and for healthy situation, conveniences of stages, &c is equal to most inland towns in Pennsylvania.

With the foregoing premises will be sold, a Lot of excellent CLOVER LAND, adjoining the Barn, containing about three Acres, in which are a number of Apple Trees.

Further particulars may be known on application to Rebecca Mayburry, on the premises, John Warder, or James Vaux, in Philadelphia. } Administrators to the estate of Thomas Mayburry, deceased.

CAUTION.

WHEREAS Jonathan Penrose, Esq. Sheriff of Philadelphia county, hath advertised for sale, at public vendue, on Wednesday the 3d day of April next, at the Merchant's Coffee House, sundry Messuages, Lots and pieces of Land in the Northern Liberties, which he alledges he has seized and taken in execution, as the real estate of Blair M'Clanachan, and whereas two of the said lots or pieces of ground, one of which is described in the said advertisement as containing by computation 14 acres and ten perches were duly conveyed and transferred in fee by the said Blair M'Clenachan to Alexander James Dallas. and John H. Huston, Esquires, on behalf of certain creditors of the said Blair, by deed, dated 2d September 1797, and executed before the judgment or judgments were had, under which those lots are now about to be sold. This is therefore to give notice to and forwarn all persons not to buy the said lots or either of them, as the title thereof is now vested in Thomas Fitzsimmons, William M'Murtrie, Isaac Wharton, Samuel W. Fisher and Philip Nicklin, for the use of the said creditors. And the said premises are not at all liable to the execution, under which they have been seized.

Thomas Fitzsimmons,
Wm. M'Murtrie,
Isaac Wharton,
Samuel W. Fisher,
Philip Nicklin.

New-York, March 25, 27 dtAp.2

FOR SALE,

On Monday, the eighth day of April next,

At the house of John Dover, in Frankford,

BY PUBLIC AUCTION,

FRANKFORD MILLS,

SEVEN dwelling houses and about twenty-five lots of land, fifteen of which are excellent landings on tide water, and a lock inclosed by a good bank that will admit, by a light simple gate, near 100 rafts of rails, and enclose them so as to be secure against freshets.

The grist-mill is a large stone building, enclosed within its walls two water wheels, has four pair of stones, three of which are new French burrs, and room for another pair; one for grinding Plaister of Paris, besides stamper all on the best construction, two bolting chests, and one very large merchant-work, a very convenient and safe corn-kiln on account of fire; the inside of the mill nearly all new, and in the best order, situate on tide water, so that shallops can lay along side to discharge and take in cargoes.

The saw-mill is all new, in good order, and also on an excellent construction, it is supplied with logs by means of a large canal, out of which they are hoisted into the mill, with machinery worked by water, a whole raft can enter the canal and come up to the tail race of the mill, adjoining is a small counting house, and a work-shop for the sawyer. With the mills will be sold a large lately repaired two story stone dwelling house with a handsome new piazza, kitchen, new coach house and stable, enclosed by a light palisade, and well surrounded by fruit and other trees, and above 300 feet of landing, upwards of 100 of which is a stone wharf. All the other dwelling houses will be sold separately, three of which are well adapted for the retreat of private families during the summer, being pleasant, airy and cool.

The lots which will be sold separately, are beautifully situated for building in such a part of that flourishing village as will always hereafter encrease in value, and command a great price.

The sale will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning, but should the weather be very bad, it will commence the next fair day, at the same hour, at which time the terms of sale will be made known.

Patent Ploughs,

TO be sold for cash by Joseph Salter at Atsion Richard Wells, Cooper's Ferry—Jonathan Harker, Woodbury—and Jesse Evans, Lumberton, Those who have used them give them the preference to any other kind; as they require less team, break the ground better, are kept in order at less expence and are sold at a cheaper rate—the plan is much simplified and consists of but one piece of cast iron, with the handles and beam of wood; they may be fixed with wrought lays and coulters to be put on with screws and taken off at pleasure.

Patent rights for vending with instructions for making them may be had by applying to John Newbold, or the subscriber No. 212 North Front-street.

Who has for Sale;

Or to Lease for a term of Years,

A number of valuable tracts of Land, well situated for Mills, Iron Works or Farms, mostly improved, lying chiefly in the county of Huntingdon state of Pennsylvania. Those who may incline to view them will please to apply to John Canan esq. near Huntingdon.
